A VERY QUIET DAY OF REST.

The Noticeable Effects of the Sunday Closing Order.

A PILGRIMAGE TO THE SUBURBS.

Various Ways, Commendable and Otherwise, In Which Omahans Spent the Sunday at the Churches, Hotels, Etc.

In the Churches.

"No, I guess not," was the reply. "I was out last Sunday, and everybody saw my bon-

"Are you going to church to-day, Clara?" was an interrogatory put to a lady, yesterday morning, by a friend who met her on the elevated end of Capitol avenue.

net. I can't accomplish anything by attending religious services to-day, and, moreover, Harry has promised to take me over to the Bluffs, early in the afternoon, on the motor. You know, I could not prepare myself for both occasions. Church is out so late, you know, that I could not get luncheon, ch ange my dress two or three times, and go to the Bluffs by the time Harry calls for me. the Bluffs by the time Harry calls for me.

Notwithstanding that many ladies attended the church last Sunday to show their Easter bonnets a large number of conscientious church goers went to the different places of worship yesterday and heard just as able sermons as they listened to at the end of the lenten season. Of course, there was not the display of flowery headgear, nor were there as many silk and satin dresses, but there were services in all the churches just the same as if the same people were in attendance who made a display one week ago. This subject was touched upon by key. A. W. Lamar at the First Baptist church. He talked on "Dress and Religion."

and Religion."

Most of the ministers announced in their pulpits that the centennial anniversary of Washington's inauguration would be celebrated to morrow morning at the Grand opera house. At 7:30 in the evening similar services will be held at the Harney street

At the Hotels.

So far as the notels are concerned, Sunday was an unusually quiet day, though nearly all of them were well filled with guests. The Millard had all its rooms occupied. No complaint could be heard at the Paxton of any slack in business and the Murray register showed a full page of names. It is an interesting study to quietly watch the crowd congregated at these places on Sunday. If one cares to busy himself he can meet people there from all parts of the world, men en-gaged in every kind of business, men of moderate means and millionaires, men of all professions and conditions above the absolute pauper who cannot stop anywhere ex-cept in box cars and the poor house. Yesterday the writer met and chatted with

Z. M. Spaulding, one of the best known and biggest sugar manufacturers of the Hawai ian islands, and learned from him that he i euroute to Paris as official representative of his country at the forthcoming Paris exposition. Said he: "Our people have prepared an elaborate display of their products and are sending me on to take charge of it." Mr. Spaulding is worth sev-eral millions, and figures as one of the controling spirits in the great sugar combina-tion. He could not be induced to talk on that subject. When asked for an expression, his reply was: "I think the United States understands our condition thoroughly; therefore nothing that I might say would do your readers any good." He had his wife, six children, and a sister-in-law with him. Lumber merchants seem to have selected the Millard as their headquarters, and a great many railroad officials can be seen there. It is also the favorite home for a large per cent of the traveling men, and the fact that saloons are closed has not lessened the number who make it their custom to spend the Sabbath in Omaha.

Bob Arthur, advance agent for Nat Goodwin, was about the first arrival. He is a jolly chap, and likes excitement. At the Paxton, J. D. Fitzpatrick and his brother, the big railroad contractor, of Beatrice, were encountered. Nearly everybody else had gone to the ball game.

The Murray office was also deserted until nearly dinner time. Those sojourning there, who are not interested in Sabbath day sports, were either out riding, calling on friends or strolling through the streets for exercise. Mr. Fitzpatrick stated that the prospects for building new railroads this year are exceedingly discouraging. At the present time none of the big companies were inclined to invest more money until rate and other troubles have been settled. "We are giving our attention now principally to the cattle market, watching for it to take a slide upwards," The firm has 650 head of cornfed steers on a ranch in Gage county, and they are getting anxious to ship them but will not sell until the price reaches $4.50 per hundred. Manager Hull declared that he had not seen a Sunday in many months

The saloons were all as quiet yesterday as a fair day in Lincoln, not a solitary violation of the closing order coming under the notice of the police. That there was no case reported was not due to any lack of vigilance on the part of the whisky informers. They were out in full force and worked hard all day. Despairing of catching a saloon man violating the law, the informers turned their attention to the drug stores and tried many of them. They didn't find any of them selling to outsiders, and so resorted to the old dodge of endeavoring to secure drinks themselves in order to prove a case against the sellers. In one instance one of the informers offered to forge a physician's name to a prescription to get the druggist to sell to him, but it didn't work. The informers have resorted to such extreme measures that the only way a saloonkeeper can feel safe on Sunday is to stay in his house all day and keep the door locked.

In very few cases only were the saloon doors opened at all, and in these it was only

In very few cases only were the saloon doors opened at all, and in these it was only to allow the porters to clean out the barrooms for the trade of to-day. The closing order is being better enforced each week, and is meeting with less opposition from the saloenkeepers themselves. While they don't object so strongly to the order, they are as sore as ever at the methods of the reformers. The saloenmen claim that the policemen are thoroughly competent to see that the saloens on their respective beats are kept closed on the Sabbath. closed on the Sabbath.

In the Parks.
The beauty of the day led many people to the sylvan bowers of Hanscom park. The place was througed during the afternoon with people. Here would be an entire family the children playing about upon the grass while the parents sat apart and talked; lovers sought the more secluded spots; mashers ogled the pretty girls, and the pretty girls-some of them, anyway-flirted with the mashers; representatives of all classes of society strolled about the grounds or sat in the pavilions or upon the rustic benches.

St. Mary's avenue and Park avenue teemed with people on foot or riding. There were many gay equipages to be seen and admired. The costumes of some of the women were gorgoous, and the men had on their "Sunday best." The driveways of the park were crowded with hyggins in one hellow two or three clarks.

driveways of the park were crowded with buggies. In one hollow two or three clerks were playing tennis.

Cut-off lake was also a popular resort, and was not overloosed by pleasure-seekers. Hundreds of people strolled about the island, drank beer at the saloons, and rowed in boats about the lake. One fellow suggested bathing, but the idea was dismissed by the others with a shiver.

The new county hospital attracted many people out in that direction. The high school grounds were populated by loungers all the afternoon,

In the Suburban Resorts. As usual, since Mayor Broatch issued his famous mandate closing saloons in Omaha on Sunday, the suburban traffic of the Union Pacific was exceedingly heavy. At an early hour yesterday morning, upon the departure of each suburban train for South Omaha and Council Bluff, respectively, crowds assembled at the depot and were conveyed to the spot where the sale of the ardent is conducted regardless of the the ardent is conducted regardless of the Slocumb law or the constitutional amendment of the cold water state.

City Ticket Agent Chambers, of the Union Pacific, was kept busy at his post in the depot supplying the demands of the migratory throngs. At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon he had disposed of 100 one way fare tickets, and 150 round trip tickets to South Omaha, and still the rush had not abated. The sale to Council Bluffs was equally as large. A careful survey of the "tourists" plainly demonstrated that the sole desire of a large number of them was to reach some a large number of them was to reach some spot where the essence of barleycorn flowed in unlimited quantities. The return of the tourists was marked largely by men endeav-oring to maintain their equlibrium under the influence of a large consignment of South Omaha tanglefoot.

Omaha tanglefoot.

As to Council Bluffs the same may be said.
The unrestricted sale of fiquor at that point, coupled with the opportunity of "bucking the tigor," if so desired, proved a drawing card yesterday, as it has on many other occasions. In this way the transient currency of Omaha is diverted into a foreign

Two Little Girls.

I have two little girls—one two and the other four years of age. They were both very badly afflicted with eruptions on the face and neck. Sometimes when they would strike the sores against anything, they would bleed as long as ten minutes; they would bleed as long as ten minutes; they were in fact so painful that we had to the up the hands of the younger with soft rags to prevent her from scratching off the flesh. They suffered in this way for about eight months, during which time we tried several remedies without any relief. Seeing Swift's Specific was recommended highly, I discarded all other remedies and bought one bottle of it, and give to the children and it bottle of it, and gave to the children, and it cured both sound and well, and they are now en tirly free from any trouble. There is n othig as good for blood and skin troubles is S.S.

To Distodge the Enemy, When it takes the form of disease of the kidneys or bladder, is a task well nigh impossi-ble of accompushment. Renal and vesical maladies are more obstinate than any others. Counteract, therefore, the earliest indica-tions of inactivity of the many organs with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which pos-sesses, among other excellent qualities, those of an efficient diuretic. The degree of stimulation apparent from its use reaches, but never goes beyond, the bounds of safety. It invigorates always, never irritates. Bright's disease, diabetes, catarrn of the bladder, are diseases successfully combatted in their incipiency with this benign medical stimulant and tonic. Besides reinforcing and regulating the kidneys and bladder, the Bitters is a speaisle for fever and ague, constipation and dyspepsia.

A SUNDAY MORNING FIRE.

Olf Lindmirk's Narrow Escape From Utter Destruction. The old Milton Rogers mansion, on Leavenworth, between Nineteenth and Twentieth, now occupied by the family of J. L. Brandels, was visited with a $1,000 fire yesterday morning, a few minutes before 6. The blaze was caused by the range in the basement setting fire to the floor, the servant girl having carelessly allowed that mammoth stove to become hotter than was necessary. The flames spread with surprising rapidity, and in a few moments the entire end of the building from basement to garret was a sheet of flame.

The family and the boarders had their Sunday morning nap suddenly curtailed and made their toilets more hurrielly than made their toilets more hurriedly than elegantly and rushed panic stricken out on the lawn. The fire department was called, and although the "laddles" were in bed at the time, they appeared on the scene with surprising dispatch. They brought their hoses to play upon the flames, and although it looked for a while as though the old landmark was to be wiped out, the fire was extensivaled and most of the furniture saved. tinguished and most of the furniture saved, About $1,000 will cover the damages to the building and replace the ruined furniture,

The following from the pen of Mr. L. P. Bardwell, editor of the Marion (Ia.) Pilot, will, we believe, be of interest to many. He says: "It is with pleasure that I certify to the real merits of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I have used it in my family for years and have always found it most excellent, and especially for colds, croup and sore throat. It is safe and effective. For sale by all druggists.

A Proclamation By the Mayor. Mayor Broatch has prepared and will issue to-day the following proclamation to the officers and employes of the city: Whereas, The 30th day of April, 1889, is the one hundredth anniversary of the inauguration of the first president of the United States,

I hereby direct that all offices be closed, and work suspended, that fitting observance may be held commemorative of an event so important in the history of our government.

I also recommend to the professional and business people of our city that they sus-pend their ordinary avocations for the day, and unfurl to the breeze that emblem of a free and enlightened nation, the stars and stripes.
